

50 Observations: accompanying photos at www.MarielisGarcia.com/a-c

1. Things are broken
2. Things are crashed into.
3. A spider web can hold light.
4. The tile looks like an amoeba.
5. The nights are loud.
6. The nights can also be peaceful in their resonance.
7. 145 is a major cross-fare.
8. There is a lot of variation.
9. Classic elements.
10. Majestic elements.
11. The curves of Shepard Hall delights me.
12. The subways speckled floor.
13. Shepard Hall has speckled floor.
14. The sidewall has a speckled floor.
15. The elevator has a speckled floor.
16. Out side of Shepard Hall is a great place to sit.
17. The gas drain.
18. I noticed a lot of color.
19. The Fire hydrant has a new coat of red paint.
20. People ignore people
21. Cameras for surveillance.
22. Bags of construction.
23. Hamilton history.
24. Beautiful architecture.
25. Green manicured.
26. Green unmanicured
27. Unidentifiable green box
28. Green tiles that sometimes look like amoebas.
29. Green leaves.
30. Green abounds and so do gates.
31. Gates for trees that roots do not adhere to.
32. Gates for churches.
33. Gates to protect those inside.
34. Gates for the the sidewalk to breath too.
35. Decorative gates, with competing building styles.
36. Gate decorated by poop.
37. Blue skies and honorable street light.
38. Townhouses are beautiful.
39. Blue sky and limbs
40. Blue doorway- abundant blues.
41. Naive decoration
42. Advanced decorations.
43. Small decorations everywhere.
44. A car on the side walk, a memorial.
45. The lines are drawn
46. Shadowy History
47. A view from home.
48. Peeling paint, literally weathered.
49. Peeing paint, and a burst of color.
50. Sugar Hill is a swirl.